DreamGirls' Sales Guru

JAMES HAYDEN

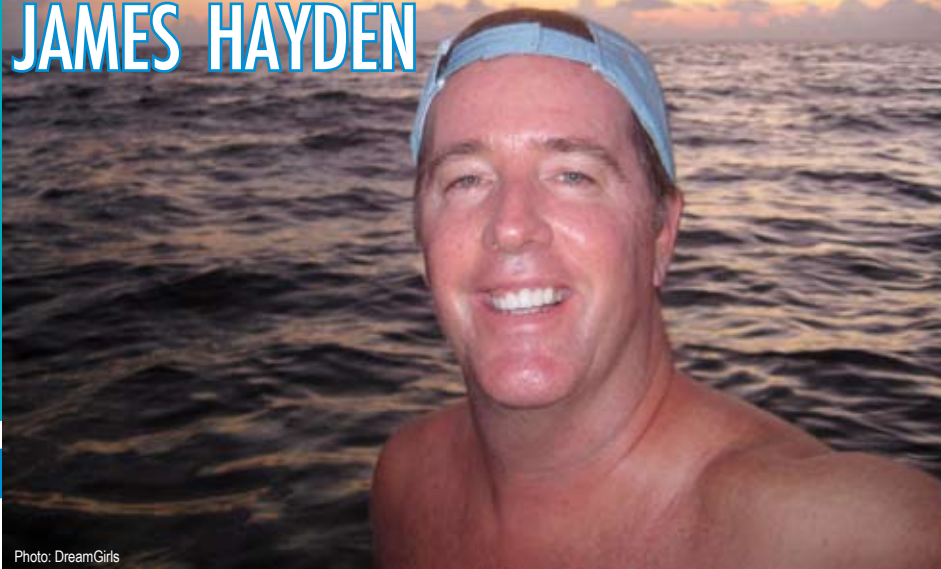

Photo: DreamGirls

For the past 15 years, DreamGirls Videos has been providing their customers with the some of the best reality content in the business. Their tag line is "Real Girls...Real Naked" – and fans know they can count on getting consistent quality in amateur adult action from the wildest ladies eager to strut their stuff for the cameras at spring breaks, Mardi Gras, wet T-shirt contests, nightclubs and much more. Over the years, DreamGirls titles have won five awards from AVN. We'd like to thank Sales Manager James Hayden for taking some time out of his busy schedule to share some business insights with Undercover readers.

UC: How long have you been working in the adult industry?

JH: DreamGirls started out as a mail order company in 1994, and then titles were distributed by Evil Angel from 1998-2000. We took over sales and distribution in 2000, which is when I came on board.

UC: What is your role and responsibility at DreamGirls?

JH: I am the sales manager. I handle all DVD sales worldwide. Our DVD's can be found in France, Australia, Switzerland, Germany, Canada, The Netherlands, South Africa, Japan, Finland, Norway & Sweden, to name a few.

UC: With DVD sales diminishing, what advice can you give to retailers to help maximize their profits?

JH: It's essential to keep your shelves fresh and ensure that pricing is competitive. You have to offer a wide variety of genres and price points. Too many people are caught up in the way things used to be instead of where the business is going. Stores cannot afford to lose a customer because they don't have a certain genre or brand anymore, so they must have a bit of everything. Also, with the economy the way it has been for the past two years, the consumer is much more value conscious. This is why DreamGirls came out with three packs...more bang for your buck.

UC: What are the key factors in making an adult studio successful?

JH: It's very important to be consistent. I know that sounds simplistic, but it seems to work for us. Our customers are very loyal; they tend to buy each volume in a series because they know it will be as good as the one before it.

UC: What direction do you think the industry will take in the next five years? Do you foresee any major changes?

JH: Let's face it. We are in the times of the survival of the fittest. We know that we aren't going anywhere, but I think that there will be some major mergers among some of the bigger players. I also believe the DVD will last longer than most people are predicting, but like everything else, technology will eventually make it extinct. VHS lasted longer than most people thought it would and I still have distributors ask me if we have any left, which we don't.

UC: What have you personally done to help the fight against the unjust prosecution of this industry?

JH: I went to Max Hardcore's trial here in Tampa...does that count? We've also made donations to several causes, like the one for GVA Cleveland.

UC: Do you have any major projects in the works at this time?

JH: As I mentioned previously, since times are so tough for everyone we decided to come out with three packs. This gives the consumer the chance to get three DreamGirls titles at a great price. We have also experimented with the names of our titles and our artwork a little bit...we'll see if it works.

UC: What are your goals for your company in the coming year?

JH: This may come as a surprise to people, but we know that there is still some opportunity for us to grow. There are stores out there that have never carried our product before that are giving it a shot now. We want to be in every store...period.
