SHOOTING TO STARDOM: RAVEN ALEXIS

Photos: Digital Playground

Last September industry heavyweight Digital Playground enhanced their lineup of contract stars when they signed scrumptious Internet superstar Raven Alexis to an exclusive contract. Alexis had already established an abundant online fan base through her own personal adult sites. At the time of her signing, Digital Playground founder Joone said: "Raven Alexis has done a commendable job creating her brand and lucrative websites. With her new contract, Digital Playground will elevate her to international stardom." A self-proclaimed sci-fi nerd, the petite actress said she signed with the company because of its focus on new technology combined with the company's foresight and ingenuity. Her next big role will be in Body Heat, which the company is calling its biggest movie of 2010. It has been described as a cross between the mainstream films Hurt Locker and Ladder 49. Set to release in the fall, the film is directed by Joone and Robby D. It's a good bet that fans can expect many more exciting projects from Alexis in the years to come. We'd like to thank Raven and Digital Playground for making this interview possible.

UC: Where did you grow up? Can you tell us a little about your childhood and background?

RA: I was blessed to be able to grow up all over the United States which gave me the opportunity to see a lot of the country. I've lived in the northwest, Midwest, south, even Alaska. My childhood was fun and crazy - definitely not normal, and I wouldn't trade it for anything.

UC: What was your first job? What did you do prior to entering the adult business?

RA: My very first job was babysitting - so stereotypical - and shortly after that, I spent a summer doing landscaping work. I got a great tan from that! Prior to entering the adult business, I attended college and worked various odd jobs to pay for school.

UC: How would your friends describe you?

RA: They'd probably say that I'm quiet, introspective, goofy, sarcastic, and always poking fun at myself.

UC: When and how did you get into the business? Who helped/influenced you along the way?

RA: I was approached to do a photo shoot and after much persuasion I gave it a try. Once I saw the pictures, I was overwhelmed with how sexy and empowered they made me feel. I quickly decided to open up a solo website, started doing all sorts of modeling and fetish shoots, and from there, I began creating my own XXX website. I have always had the desire to be a successful, independent business person, and that has been the driving force behind my achievements.

I also really want to break down stereotypes and stigmas that surround the adult industry and the people in it. I feel that America is finally ready to allow sex to be viewed in a more positive light, and I hope to help further that cause.

UC: In what ways is your career as an adult performer what you expected it would be, and in what ways is it different?

RA: I knew that I would love being a performer, because I feel that sex is such an important part of people's lives. I love making erotica that people can enjoy and I love knowing that people are being turned on and living out their sexual fantasies through my movies. I knew there was a stigma attached to the industry, but I could never have fathomed how deep that stigma ran. That has been the most shocking thing to me – the fact that sex is the one thing that almost every person on this planet shares, but that the videotaping of it, and the people who make it their life's work, are so taboo.

UC: How do you feel your career choice has affected your personal/family relationships?

RA: There has definitely been an adjustment for some people, but it's been awesome for me to see how my positive attitude and love for my job has rubbed off on my friends and family. I'm blessed with incredible people in my life, and I always try to surround myself with people who are open-minded and positive.

UC: What advice would you give to someone just beginning their career in the industry?

RA: Research it – research it – research it. Make sure that you get an agent or person on the inside that you trust, and never do anything that you're not comfortable with. Be your own boss, set your own boundaries and limits, and most of all, make sure you are doing it because you love it.

UC: What is the one thing people should know about you, but don't?

RA: I'm pretty upfront about myself, so I'm not sure what people wouldn't know about me, but the one thing that I always want to put out there is my love of sex, and how much I want the world to be a sex-positive place.

UC: What are your latest major projects?

RA: Well, I have been working on the redesign of my personal XXX website, which is really exciting to me. It will be ready to relaunch in about a month or two, and we will have a lot of awesome new stuff for my fans. I also just filmed the next huge movie for Digital Playground, Body Heat, which will be released in the fall. I can't wait for my fans to see me and all of my contract sisters in the next groundbreaking release from Digital Playground.

UC: Do you prefer any certain type of sex scenes? Any types of scenes you will not engage in?

RA: I really try to keep myself open to all types of sexual fun. I always try something once or twice, and even if I didn't enjoy it, I find that it really broadens my sexual horizons. I love passionate lovemaking scenes, as well as kinky things such as BDSM. I really love being with a man and a woman at the same time, and especially when it's a foursome or an orgy-type setting. I think they are so erotic and beautiful on camera, as well as off camera.

UC: What do you most enjoy about your work? What's your least favorite part?

RA: The best part about it for me is obviously the sex, and being able to turn other people on while they watch my movies. I love interacting with fans who love my work and I have met so many awesome, fun people through my job. My least favorite part would be the fact that sex is so taboo, and every day I work on breaking down the stereotypes that are associated with it.

UC: What kinds of things do you do to relax when you're not working, i.e., hobbies, interests, etc.? What does a typical day off look like?

RA: I am an avid book reader, gamer, and movie watcher. I really enjoy outdoor things as well; hiking, camping, boating, beaches, traveling, horseback riding, and rock climbing.

UC: Have you received any special awards or recognition? What's the award you'd most like to win?

RA: I was honored to be nominated at the AVN awards last year for Best New Web Starlet, which was really amazing because I've worked so hard on my web presence, and because I have created all of my own websites from the ground up. The fact that I was nominated was honor enough, and I would absolutely love at some point to be nominated for Female Performer of the Year, or the Crossover Star of the Year award.

UC: Who are your favorite performers to work with? Why?

RA: There are too many to name! I have so many wonderful friends and co-workers. All of my contract sisters, Sasha Grey, Manuel Ferrara, Mick Blue, Erik Everhard, Scott Nails, Tori Black, the list goes on and on!

UC: How about favorite directors? What's great about them?

RA: Well, I'm lucky to get to work with two of the best directors in the biz, Robby D. and Joone. I also get to direct and produce my own web content and websites, so I get the best of both worlds!!!

UC: Do you have any experience behind the camera? Would you like to? Who would you like to direct?

RA: Yes I do, and I love being behind the camera! I eventually plan on producing adult websites (other than my own) and in time, major feature films for adult companies, hopefully Digital Playground! I love them and they are amazing to work with, and I would love to be involved with their productions long after I am finished working in front of the camera.

UC: Do you make personal appearances so you can meet your fans? Are any coming up soon?

RA: Yes, I do!!! My next big expo is the XFanz Expo here in Las Vegas, June 10 - 11, at the Hard Rock Hotel. I'm going to be poolside in the Digital Playground cabana, rocking hot sexy bikinis!!!

UC: Is there anything else you'd like to tell us about yourself?

RA: I'd just like to let everyone know that they can check out my websites and add me on Twitter, MySpace, and Facebook. I love hearing from fans, and I answer every single email!!!

UC: Do you have an address for fan mail?

RA: Absolutely! I welcome fans to write me at: 10120 South Eastern Avenue, Ste. 200, Henderson, NV 89052.
